| Article XV. Transition Document If a new Governance Plan is put in place, a transition semester will occur before the new plan is implemented. The previous plan will remain in place during that semester as elections are made for the new Senate and committees. In order to prevent loss of continuity, half of the new committee appointments will be for one year and the remainder for two years. At the end of the transition semester, the existing | Article XV. Plan Assessment The Governance Plan shall be periodically assessed. The first assessment shall occur three years from date of approval, and then every seven years thereafter. |

Senate and committees will be superseded by the new governance bodies.

The elections and initial work on an operations document will be overseen by a transition team that will be appointed consisting of an administrator and a team of faculty and staff. During this semester, the Transition team will craft a set of rules of operation that will remain outside of the governance document. Thus, changes in this document will not require Board of Trustees approval but will need to be endorsed by the campus Senate.
